DECLARATION OF THE POLITICAL BUREAU OF PCPE

LET US NOT GIVE A SINGLE MINUTE OF REST TO THE NEW CAPITALIST GOVERNMENT

The approval of the vote of no confidence to the Government of Mariano Rajoy opens a new political cycle. The new government will try to take definitive steps to reform the political system, following a parliamentary debate in which it has been found that it is the very nature of capitalism that engenders political corruption. The dispute between the parliamentary forces represents the interests of different sectors of the bourgeoisie, which has seen its class economic interests guaranteed with the commitment of Pedro Sánchez to govern with the Budgets designed by the Popular Party.

The complete subordination of Unidos Podemos to the PSOE confirms the alliance between the new and the old social-democracy to manage capitalism. The exploitation will continue and will increase in the future. The new government will limit itself to managing exploitation under new forms, while the political right becomes harder and prepares to preserve from the opposition the interests of the capitalist sector it represents, waiting for a new electoral process that will determine the correlation of forces that definitely completes the reform of the political system.

The working class and the popular sectors should not place any hope in the new capitalist government, which will continue to govern for the bosses. Our rights will only be guaranteed if the mobilization continues and intensifies, mobilization that should lead to the calling of a general strike, as the Government changes, but capitalist exploitation continues and intensifies.

Our interests are not represented in the parliamentary debate, which is limited to discussing the type of management that monopolies need at one time or another. The discourse on "democratic regeneration" employed by social-democracy must be unmasked. The PSOE continues to be the political party under whose governments state terrorism was practiced, Spain became member of NATO and the European Union, participated in criminal imperialist wars, labour reforms were approved and a harsh repression was exercised against the workers' and people's movement. We do not forget. The new Government of Pedro Sánchez will continue to represent those same class interests, which are not ours.

The Communist Party calls the workers' movement and the whole of our people to intensify all the struggles that are under way, without placing any hope in the social-democracy. We should not lower any of the flags we have raised in recent months. The new Government is a capitalist government at the service of exploitation and will soon demonstrate it. The struggle for a country for the working class continues.
